PUSHING THE WORK FORWARD

The new proprietors of the Florida Packing & Ice Company, since taking charge of the plant, have been busily engaged with a force of workmen in cleaning up the big plant, making changes and repairs and entirely replacing all parts and machines that were badly worn or damaged. When this work is completed the plant will be in first-class condition and the daily output of ice will be very large and regular.

The proprietors are all practical men. Mr. R. E. Eggleston, the general manager, Mr. W. H. Thomas, the sales manager, Mr. Henry Perry, the engineer and superintendent, all understand their business thoroughly and the firm has the capital to push the work along.

The company owns and operates a number of big ice plants in Georgia. Mr. Perry came down before the plant was purchased and made a thorough examination of it. He knew that it was not a new plant, but with his many years' experience in the business, knew that he could soon make a good one out of it, and is rapidly doing so.

Mr. Eggleston remained in Ocala until the work was well started, and returned to Atlanta. He will spend half of his time here. Both Mr. Thomas and Mr. Perry have their families here and are keeping house in houses owned by the company on North Magnolia street. They are pleased with Ocala and have their hearts in the work.

Messrs. Perry and Thomas told a Star man this week that the plant would be running and turning out first-class ice in a very short time. Some delay has been met with in getting machinery parts from the factories in Pennsylvania, but they will be in position to announce the definite date when they will begin operations in a few days. The company will operate the cold storage plant next season and will have it in first-class condition for handling a large volume of business. The managers are experienced cold storage men as well and a specialty will be made of this department. The location of this factory is ideal, being right on the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line and Seaboard Air Line railroads and the Homosassa division of the Coast Line.

They will make a strong, legitimate business effort for a good share of the business of the city and county as far out as it is practical to reach. They are not, as Mr. Eggleston said, price cutters or trade demonstrators, neither are they trust builders. The delivery wagons for the city trade are being made and they are beautiful. When the factory opens up another big industry will be added to Ocala and a good many people will be given employment in and about the plant. The managers believe in improvement and advancement. They will have the plant presenting an attractive appearance when finished and it will be pleasing to the eyes of those who pass that way instead of the eye sore, as it formerly was.

A STRANGE ACCIDENT

Mr. Wm. Konow, shipping clerk at Keating & Co., met with a most unusual accident Saturday night while on his way to Jacksonville, over the Seaboard. A white woman, matron from the state insane asylum, was on the train with two young women. Mr. Konow was sitting just behind one of them. All at once she jumped up and dashed through the window. Mr. Konow grabbed her when she was almost out. The train was running 25 miles an hour, the woman was heavy and the struggle was terrific. The train was finally stopped and with the help of others the woman was hauled back into the car absolutely unharmed. But Mr. Konow was not so fortunate. The tendons of the first three fingers on his right hand were entirely severed by the sawing of the broken glass in the window. He had one dressed in Jacksonville and the doctors believe they can save him the use of his fingers, but the injury is most painful and serious.
